

neodisher® –
your partner for maximum hygiene in the professional kitchen.

Responsibility requires a partner with plenty of experience.

Hygiene plays an enormous role in professional kitchens. Whether it's automated dishwashing systems or kitchen and staff hygiene, only a partner which shines with its high-performance products and provides the right expertise can assure safety. Dr. Weigert is a partner who can advise you reliably and continually. To show that this is not just a promise but a fact, we would like to present the following arguments.

1. Far-sighted hygiene solutions.

Dr. Weigert provides support as a trusted hygiene partner. To develop customised solutions, we have the whole hygiene process in mind and always maintain the correct balance between efficacy, cost-effectiveness and efficiency.

We have an answer to all of your questions – whether it's regarding product application, relevant norms and regulations or processes in the kitchen and day-to-day hygiene requirements. Only we can provide the Dr. Weigert experts who can give you one-to-one assistance backed up with the support of all of our specialist divisions.

2. Tailored to your requirements.

Every professional kitchen has different conditions – for example, they use other appliances and utensils, and the water quality also varies. Many other factors also play a role when it comes to ensuring 100% hygiene safety.

neodisher® products and concepts in combination with our support and services all enable Dr. Weigert to offer a system that will benefit you, your employees, your company and also the environment. After all, customised solutions are what we do best.

3. Innovative dosing technology means success.

Dosing technology adjusted to your specific requirements has been a fixed part of our portfolio for decades. The advantages in terms of hygiene, efficiency, health and safety and time saving are clear – are you reaping the rewards yet?

Our very own dosing technology department develops and installs the right system for your special cleaning tasks and requirements, with Dr. Weigert at your side, you have a partner who will support you for the long haul.

4. Putting a face to customer service.

Our neodisher® consultants are there to advise you, right from the start. Working together, we can help you develop personalised cleaning and disinfection plans and can also provide training for your staff.

And because hygiene is not always a guaranteed steady state, we're also happy to work with you when it comes to making improvements or documenting results. Of course, our neodisher® experts are also responsible for regular maintenance and ensuring perfect cleaning results. Our understanding of customer service is not just a telephone helpline – it's one-to-one consultation and support.

5. Laboratory & on-site analyses ensure maxi- mum safety.

We don't leave anything to chance. The Dr. Weigert laboratories are therefore a fixed part of our business, enabling us to carry out all kinds of analyses and cleaning tests quickly and flexibly, as well as enabling us to test material compatibility.

Biocontrol tests performed on your premises and examined in our own microbiology lab, give both you and us the confirmation of continuous hygiene safety.

6. Managing the hygiene process consistently.

The hygiene process is also influenced to a significant degree by the technology on which it relies. As such, the experts at Dr. Weigert work closely together with the manufacturers of dishwashers and wash ware. Drawing on this knowledge and the extensive neodisher® range of products, our staff are ready to provide first-class advice and support.

Do you have any questions, or would you like some help solving a specific problem? Our neodisher® experts look forward to your call!

7. Our research for the hygiene safety of the future.

Standing still is losing ground – this motto is our inspiration when researching the products of the future in our very own research and development and microbiology labs. This is where the latest cleaning technologies, such as low-temperature washing systems, are thoroughly examined, as are new disinfectant formulas with a wide spectrum of efficacy against all relevant bacteria, fungi and viruses.

Resting on laurels is not something Dr. Weigert is comfortable with. This is the reason why our products and services are always being adapted to changing requirements. You, too, can enjoy the fruits of this research with neodisher®.

8. Independence results in quality and continuity.

As an owner-managed company, the topic of responsibility plays a major role in everything we do. The hygiene solutions which we develop and offer secure the jobs and continuation of the company.

Dr. Weigert is not indebted to shareholders but always has its focus on quality and customer satisfaction. This makes our independence your guarantee of quality and exceptional service.

9. Systematic hygiene to German standards.

Dr. Weigert has been developing innovative hygiene products for over 100 years. And even though we have been proving our proximity to our customers for decades with various branches abroad, our headquarters remain in Hamburg.

With our quality credentials we help to sustain the exceptional reputation of products made in Germany.

10. Sustainability is close to our hearts.

Because we work with a wide range of chemicals – including some hazardous substances – environmental protection has always been of major significance for us. Our health and safety and environmental measures go above and beyond what is required of the company by law.

We believe that you can never do too much for the environment and for future generations. Eco-listed and eco-certified products are therefore also an established part of the Dr. Weigert range.

Always on hand to help with hygiene – in Europe and around the world.
